

CITIZENS for PUBLIC JUSTICE

invites you

Dignity for All: Campaign for a Poverty-Free Canada A CPJ CALL TO ACTION

What: A pre-budget workshop on addressing poverty in Canada
When: Friday, January 23, 1:00-3:30pm
Where: St. Paul's Bloor Street, 227 Bloor Street East, Toronto
(located between the Yonge/Bloor and Sherbourne subway stations)

The 2009 Federal Budget is being released on January 27 – but a strategy to address poverty in Canada is not likely to be a major element. What can we, as citizens, do? Join CPJ as we examine poverty from the perspective of human dignity, explore a federal poverty reduction strategy, and offer empowering ways that you can engage with your government and involve your faith community as we work to build a Poverty-Free Canada.

This event is being co-hosted by the Anglican Diocese of Toronto. Refreshments will be served and there will be an opportunity for informal discussion with CPJ staff.

For more information, visit www.cpj.ca or contact Mariel Angus at 1-800-667-8046, ext. 229 or mariel@cpj.ca

Citizens for Public Justice is a national organization that promotes public justice in Canada. CPJ encourages citizens, leaders in society and governments to support policies and practices that reflect God's call for love, justice and stewardship.

