

Business Sponsorship

..... a unique way for your business to support our public justice work!

CPJ would like to identify businesses that would consider sponsoring certain aspects of our work.

It could take the form of sponsoring CPJ advertisement space in various newspapers or magazines, or purchasing advertisement space in program booklets for CPJ public events.

Sponsorship could be beneficial for you and your business because you could (1) deduct your sponsorship as an advertising expense for your business, and (2) get exposure for your business in a community in which you may not normally advertise.

Sponsorship is helpful to CPJ because it allows us to generate extra revenue for our work and give out deductible invoices for the advertisement space sold.
